An area of 5,000 acres scattered over 2,000 square miles was sown with imported Abassi seed, and produced about 1,700 bales of cleaned cotton. This was not one-half of the anticipated yield, but in spite of the poor harvest the crop has proved profitable to the cultivators, even when allowance is made for the greater care and attention needed by the plants when growing, and the longer time they take to mature. With the aid of the Bombay Government in arranging for the collec-tion and sale at a central depot of the produce, a much better price has been obtained than last year, when, owing to the novelty of the commodity, doubt of the merchants as to the true value of home-grown Egyptian cotton, the small quantity — 500 bales — and the difficult-ies of collecting and marketing, it was found impossible to stimulate a local demand. At the public auctions at Mirpur Khas, which were well attended, prices varying from Rs.101 to Rs. 13½ per maund of 80 pounds of seed-cotton, equivalent to 7½d to 10d a pound for cleaned cotton, have been realised by the cultivators, and many of the zamindars did not need to make use of the machinery provided by Government for the disposal of their crops, which they sold early in the season at Rs. 12 per maund. The return obtained by the cultivators last year was from 5½d. to 2/½d. a pound. The price of Broach cotton at Bombay in December last was Rs. 245 per candy of 784 pounds, or 5d. a pound; the Varadi or Jari of Sind is inferior in quality to Broach, and its value is at least 20 per cent. less.

The whole area under cotton in India in 1906 was 22,344,000 acres, and the yield was 4,908,000 bales, so that the one-third of a bale per acre obtained from the Egyptian variety was well above the average. If effective measures to cope with that foe of the cotton plant, the boll-worm, can be devised by the scientific staff which is being added to the agricultural departments of the various provines, the original estimate of Mr. Fletcher, the Deputy Director of Agriculture in Bombay, to whom is due much of the credit for the uccessful introduction of this high-class cotton into India, might easily be reached. He is of opinion that the lint per acre from Egyptian cotton should be three times that obtained from the indigenous varieties, and as it commands in the market double the price of the best native cottons, to replace the latter by the Egyptian should in Sind, where soil and climate have been proved to be suitable, only be a question of time and of the extent to which perennial irrigation is available.

The cultivated land in Sind served by the two chief perennial canals, the Jamrao and the Fuleli, amounts to 600,000 acres, and for the past six years cotton cultivation has become more and more popular. It is anticipated that in time, as the district becomes more closely colonised and the ryots learn to appreciate the greater profit from cotton than from food grains, one-third of the whole will be put under cotton in rotation every year Looking still further into the future, when an additional two and a half million acres will have been rendered cultivable by the projected perennial canal in Eastern Sind for which surveys are now being made, and which was described at the annual meeting of the Karachi Chamber of Commerce last month as "one of the largest and most ambitious schemes that have yet engaged the attention of Government," the time may come when the annual area under this fine longstapled cotton in India will reach a million acres. On Mr. Fletcher's estimate of a bale per acre, the Egyptian standard, this extended cultivation would nearly double the world's present out turn of this valuable fibre, providing an important fresh source of supply for the raw material required by our Lancashire manu-facturers. ("Pall Mall Gazette").

WONDERS OF 'A WATCH.

A watch is the smallest, most delicate machine that was ever constructed of the same number of parts. About 175 different pieces of material enter into its construction, and apwards of 2,400 separate operations are comprised in its manufacture. When considof the out-turn, which was injuriously affected by the ravages of the boll-worm late in the season, and the Egyptian cotton suffered considerably more from this pest, than the indigenous variety.

A blacksmith strikes several thousand blows on his anvil in a day, but the roller jewel of a watch makes every day, and day after day, 432,000 impacts against the fork. It has been estimated that one horse-power would suffice to run 270,000,000 watches,

The hearing of this case was resumed yesterday at the French Consular Court before a large and interested assembly. The details of the evidence seem more foolish than interest-ing and judging by the various reports, the affair appears to be a common squabble, very likely originating in feminine jealousies. The Cairo Press are making excellent copy of the affair which is by way of being an aid to copy in the silly season, taking the place of the sea seriout, or its Egyptian equivalent. With due caution we would remark that some parts of the crossexamination were in rather question. case of this nature into a "cause célebre" the case is more ridiculous than anything

LONDON'S RECOGNITION.

FREEDOM OF THE CITY:

(Gazette's Special Service.)

The conferment of the freedom of the City of Loudon on Lord Cromer, referred to in our nessage proclaiming his triumphal return, was officially announced to-day. Sir George Faudel Phillips, seconding the resolution at the meeting of the Court of Common Council, said that they were voting to one their greatest, states men the greatest honour they possessed. They were honouring a man who had done wonderful service, which had been recognised by all the eivilised nations of the world: Tord Croner would go down in history as one of our great Pro-consuls, ranking with such men as Clive.

THE HEALTH OF CAIRO. CAIRO SMELLS.

One Cairo Correspondent writes :

I should like to draw the attention of the Public Health Department to the almost overpowering stench which arises from the Ismailia canal in the neighbourhood of Abou el Ela bridge, and would suggest that immediate steps be taken to remedy the evil. To state that the condition of the canal, and its banks, that the condition of the canal, and its banks, is nothing, short of a public scandal, is to employ a word which, at best, can only convey a slight idea of the intolerable odour which pollutes the cattre district. It is impossible to adequately describe the steach which now hangs heavily over the canal, but a perusal of Rudyard Kinding's account of the "Big Cal-atte Stind" will give the reader a graphic rentia Stinks will give the resider a graphic conception of its power. Even in winter, the noxious smells, which pursue one for the whole length of Sharia Abbas, are sufficient to cause a very serious epidemic, but, now, when summer is with us, the smell rather resembles the essence of corruption that has rotted for the second time.

All towns of every country suffer, more o its strength varies considerably according to establishment of a bond of union far stronger the negligent or cleanly habits of the popula- than any artificial alliance can do. tion and also to certain natural advantages of Dr. Brigstecke, the leader of the British temperature and position. Granted that the Colony, with his wonted hospitality offered are enormous, especially when the insanitary habits of uncultured natives have also to be dealt with, yet, making allowance for all this the sickening intensity of the Cairo stinks, specially in the quarter mentioned, has ex-ceeded all bounds of endurance. The exact steps which should be taken to alleviate the evil must be left to the authorities of the Public Health Department, but I venture to suggest public latrine would be a movement in the right direction. Also attention to the canal itself, the water of which has become stagnant since the recent dredging operations near the Nile inlet, would not be misplaced.

STEAMER MOVEMENTS

The S.S. Trojan Prince, with passengers and a general cargo, left, Malta on the 30th inst. for Alexandria, via Tripoli, and is due to arrive

The Papayanni liner Andalusian sailed from Malta yesterday for Misrata and Alexandria, where she is due on the 3rd proxo. with passengers and mails.

THE COLLAPSED HOUSE.

A HEAVY DEATH ROLL.

THE WORK OF RESCUE.

The grim work of rescuing the injured and recovering the dead victims of the collapsed ouse was actively pursued yesterday, and this morning the task was still uncompleted.

At half past four this morning, however, the lunicipal authorities were compelled to give orders to cesse the work of clearing away the debris, for the part of the house which still stands threatened to fall upon the rescuers and bury them. The wall was seen to tremble and the occupants of the adjacent houses were turned into the street, for it was not impossible that if a second collapse occurred other houses might be damaged by the fall.

The fire brigade at this time brought two steamers into action and with six boses, fed from the one engine at the Labban Caracol and the other under Fort Napoleon, played ropes.

Shortly alter seven o'clock this morning attention was once more turned to the recovery of bodies with the result that nine dead persons were found. Of these two were native women, one a native man, one a native child, three European woman, one European man, and one European infant child.

Of the 17 injured persons who were taken to hospital one man and one woman have died. one man was discharged as not necessitating indoor treatment, and 14 remain under treat

It is not as yet known whether other persons remain buried and the work of clearing away the débris is being actively carried on without rest, but it is thought that all have been found. The total death roll up to the present amounts to 11.

The majority of the bodies have been found underneath the staircase, from which one must conclude that a warning shock caused the inhabitants of the house to make an attempt to rush out, but were overwhelmed in their efforts, which must have been frantic.

EMPIRE DAY AT BEYROUTH.

6 (FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT).

. Beyrouth, May 27. The leading article in one of your recent issues on Empire Day seems to have had a ready and responsive echo in our town. Indeed the writer's earnest advocacy of the celebration of a national fete on the ground of the noble effects it is calculated to produce in welding together the hearts of the sons of Britain scattered in the four corners of the world, and nursing therein the spirit of an abiding patriot ism, has been justified and illustrated here in a striking manner. Not only has the celebra-tion of this day on Friday evening been an Colony, with his wonted hospitality offered difficulties to be overcome in preserving a his house and garden to the crowd of guests, healthy atmosphere in a semi-tropical country who numbered over a hundred. It being a warm night the open garden was the favourite resort, and with thoughtful taste the host and hostess had it beautifully decorated and illuminated with Chinese lanterns, with a kind of triumphal arch in the middle, across which shone in brilliant red letters "Empire Day". Refreshment's were liberally served, and dancing was kept up till after midnight. Before the crowd dispersed "God. Save the King" was sung with patriotic fervour. followed by three cheers for the host and hostess. I hear that neither the British Consul General nor any of his family were present, although official patronage would have been desirable in such an eminently national cel-ebration. I am told however, that the Honour able Mr. G. Bie Ravndal, Unifed States Consul General, kindly took part.

THE FINANCIAL CRISIS.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

AN IMPOTENT GOVERNMENT.

A well-known local merchant writes I fail to see why the action of the Board of Directors of the Crédit Lyonnais is the subject of so much criticism in Egypt. There are no moral obligations on any bank to join the syndicate. The first duty of a bank is to assist mmerce and there is no reason why banks should come to the rescue, except in their own interest, of the Bourses in order to maintain shares at a fictitious price. The one and only way is to let local shares reach their proper level, which will immediately bring in buyers. Under the system of bolstering up the market by fixing compensation rates and minimum prices, intending buyers are on the contrary driven away. The foolishness of the system is obvious, for sellers are being all forced to go to London where things are as bad as here. The result of this lack of a free market and and the wrecked building for nearly three the result of this lack of a free market and hours and finally pulled down the wall with the wholesale selling in London are that shares are placed in a worse plight than they would otherwise have been if there had been a free market, and they were allowed to reach their actual leval.

There may have been a certain amount of over-trading by the produce merchants, or how else could it be explained that the same quality of rice at Alexandria was selling a short time ago at 18s. 3d. per bag against 21 s. 3d. in London. Certain bank managers have shown their ability by refusing to support the Bourse against the interest of commerce. It seems that the financial world is trying to make the commercial world pay for their mistakes. The only way to bring about stability is for a gradual liquidation to take place both in the share market and in commerce, and this will not be done in a moment.

My experience teaches me, in times of crises, bankers rarely discriminate and treat all alike.

It therefore appears to me, that the financial world, will make the commercial world, suffer from their mistakes, by stopping the regular flow of credits.

The state of the London Stock Exchange is thus described in the city notes of the latest "Pall Mall Gazette" to hand. It fully confirms the statements given in our London Money Market letter, which we published yesterday :-

It is not in this market or that, however, that the fall in prices is most marked. It is universal. And sound reasons can be advanced for each downward movement. But at the bottom of all, there is the simple-law working of supply and demand. There is practically no demand, and consequently a very little show of selling affects prices. People are too nervous to buy, and although prices are at a bargain level, they hold aloof and express their fear of the Radical Government, the attacks on capital, and the other evils that have had so serious an influence in the markets for so long a time just. Gradually, of course, the impotence of the Government will be recognised, and as capital flows back from trade, when the industrial activity slackens, and capital has sufficiently accumulated to get over the effects of the new issues due to the wars, we shall discover that the present level the crew of the steamer Industrie on March- of many of our securities is far too/low, and there will be a rapid recovery. But nowadays the investor is between the devil and the deep sea. He has taken his capital abroad very largely, fearing during the last few years for its safety at home. Now he discovers that even his Argentine Railway dealers are fair-weather men, and are very chary about keeping the market going in these uncertain times. And the same applies even more to some other recent favourite investment centres. He looks abroad, sees many millions of new capital issues during the last few days in the United States railroad group, hears the threats of more, and realises the prospects of an American and Canadian wheat shortage. He recalls the need for large outlay in the Mexican railway section, remem-bers the maize shortage, and the growing cost of maintenance and expenses in Argentina, to say nothing of the locusts, and in other favour-ite railway stocks finds his minor troubles in less, from the insiduous attentions of some particular odour, exclusively their own, and sea ports are frequently the most offensive in this respect. Can one ever forget the rancid atmosphere of Southampton at low tide, for atmosphere, or the sickly reck of Bombay or Port to example, or the sickly reck of Bombay or Port two national fetes by the great sister nations able taste and it would be preferable to see example, or the sickly reek of Bombay or Port hope that the mutual participation is doubts about the Duma, and altogether less able taste and it would be preferable to see example, or the sickly reek of Bombay or Port hope that the mutual participation is doubts about the Duma, and altogether less about the Duma altogether less his investment money home. Markets are failing all round him. So what money he has in his pockets he keeps there, and curses the Stock Exchange list and everybody connected with it. And that is your latter-day invest-ment position. As for the mere City Editor who has to write about these things-well, the task is too painfully thankless to talk about.

EGYPTIAN CONSTRUCTIONS, LTD.

The annual general meeting of the Egyptian Constructions, Ltd., will shortly be held when the accounts for the year ending March, 31st., 1907 will be submitted. We understand the result of the year's trading has proved eminently satisfactory, a substantial profit being shewn. The new branches, Grant, Bondi and Chinn, sanitary specialists, and Mark G. Boyes and Co., engineers, which were acquired at the beginning of this year, have materially streng-thened the company, the results of the three months taken to account having exceeded the nost hopeful anticipations of the directors. The prospects of the company for the current year are exceedingly bright, and judging from the work in progress and new contracts received, (which together, approximate to nearly a quarter of a million), the present

EGYPTIAN NATIONALISM

THE KHEDIVE AND MR. DICEY.

MUSTAPHA KAMEL'S MANIFESTO.

The Khedive's interview with Mr. Dicey has aroused the keenest excitement in the Nationalist Press. The first line of policy was to repudi ate its authenticity owing to the "great age" of Mr. Dieey, and the frequent instances of carelessness about facts in the series of articles which he has lately contributed to the "Daily Telegraph" from Cairo. This argument is now recognised to carry little weight and a new policy has been started by the Nationalists, who now try to show that the Khedive's statements mean nothing. We extract the following passage from the signed manifesto which has been published by Mustapha Pasha Kamel:--In reality the times are distant when a

The Caulty the times are distant when a Khedive could decree the death of a nation. The Egyptians are conscious to-day of their rights and their duties, and they know that their country is above all Khedives and above all Sovereigns. Men come and go, but the Fatherland remains and our only raison d'être is to serve it and to sacrifice in its cause all our personal interests.

Having asserted which let us examine the influence which the Khedivial declarations those pronounced to M. Puaux and those stated in the presence of Mr. Dicey can exercise on the National Movement. The Khedive declared:

1.—That he recognises the material progres

5.—That, being the heir of Mohamed Ali, he cannot destroy his work and replace Egypt beneath Turkish dominion. 6.—That of two foreign Occupations he prefers that of England.

That is the sum of the Khedive's conversa-

That is the sum of the Khedive's conversa-tions with Messrs. Puaux and Dicey. In his declarations, some remarks' concern the nation, and some himself personally.

When he declares himself in favor of satisfy-when he declares himself in rayor of satisfy-ing the moral and intellectual needs of the people, and in favor of a constitution, he gains to him the whole of Egypt, and shows how he appreciates the strength of the National Move-

But when he defends himself against the charge of having intrigued against England, of having aided Turkey in the Taba affair, and when he states that he is ready to collaborate with the British Agent, he speaks for himself and only engages his own person.

All who know the truth concerning the political situation in Egypt, know that since the Taba incident relations have been strained between the King of England and the Khedive, and that it is on that account the visits of the Khedive to England have ceased.

The King was, in other words, made to believe that the Khedive was secretly instructing Turkey, while he was officially on the side of England.

His accusation is naturally hurtful, to the Khedive, and it is his right, if not his duty to defend himself.

But does he not condemn the policy of Lord Cromer in saying that the Consul-General can never govern Egypt by himself alone, and that he the Khedive is prepared to assist him?
This declaration signifies one thing only:
namely that Lord Cromer removed the Khedive from power. And why?

rom power. And why?
The Occupation Press should tell us why. The Khedive's advent to the throne is not of recent date. He has been Khediye for 15 years. Why then is the collaboration between him and England still a desire?

The Khedive has not then declared war on The Khedive has not then declared war on nationalism; but has been anxious by his two interviews published in the "Temps" and the "Daily Telegraph" to tell his people that "he is with them" and to the English that "he is not against them." To have the sympethy of both Egyptians and English is a difficult, nayimpossible task.

But the very critical position of the Khedive But the very critical position of the Khedive ust not be forgotten, nor the threats which been granted one calendar month's extension Cromerites incessantly throw at him.

If the Khedive wishes to continue the work of Mohamet Ali, we agree heartily with him, not only as regards the non-replacing of Egypt under the Turkish yoke, but as regards the non-acceptance of England - obliged by Mohamet Ali to evacuate Egypt in 1807 — as the mistress of our country!

In any case, the Khedive can be friendly or and the consequence of events.

Our programme cannot change on this account. We demand a life worthy of our new aspirations. Nothing can oblige us to ac-

Our success can only strengthen the Khedivial throne. A constitutional monarch with a free Egypt is certainly more happy and greater than an absolute sovereign — if that is possible-with a foreign occupation !

The national party has been accused of being inspired by Turkey, then by Germany, and lastly by the Khedive. The two first accusations have crumbled away. The third is now about to share their fate

We can only be glad of that.

The day will certainly come when our enemies will recognize that the national movement is purely "national" as they have just recognized the baselessness of their previous calumnies!

EGYPT AND KOREA.

A PARALLEL

(From the "Tokio Advertiser" of April It is admissible to sympathize with the national aspirations of "non-peoples" like the Egyptians, Koreans, Filipinos, and Poles with-out necessarily admitting their present fitness to govern themselves. It may even be said that the very predominance of an outside Power in the affairs of another nation is ipso facto proof that the nation in question is not strong enough to enjoy autonomy, which is merely another way of affirming that mos countries possess the kind of government they countries possess the kind of government deserve. It would be ridiculous to pretend deserve. It would be ridiculous to pretend to that the modern Powers are always in interference by the peremptory dictates of altruism, and that the crudest form of earth hunger is ever the true motive of "Imperial istic" expansion; but at the same time, a well-ordered State, like Switzerland does not to day exist in constant dread of a modern Duke of Burgundy, and mutual jealousy as much perhaps as the evolution of the spirit of international fair-play helps to guarantee the integrity of "race-lets" which could not otherwise hope to resist any exting wise hope to resist annexation if not absorption. Thus, while Switzerland, Denmark, Hol land, and Belgium survive on their merits, Turkey does so on sufferance, though bit by bit the area of her independent authority is being circumscribed, and the end is merely a question of time.

There is an obvious analogy between Japan 1.—That he recognises the material progress of the country.

2.—That he desires all efforts to be directed towards the satisfaction of the moral and intellectual necessities of the nation.

3.—That he is disposed to give his people a constitution and to associate it with the governing of their country.

4.—That he wishes to be on good terms with the Occupying Power and collaborate with it for the welfare of the country.

5.—That, being the heir of Mohamed Ali, left for the world to do is to watch and criticize he cannot destroy his work and replace Egypt the use which Japan sees fit to make of her left for the world to do is to watch and criticize the use which Japan sees fit to make of her stewardship. America in the Philippines must perforce submit to the same scrutiny. It can-not honestly be said that either Power has made too brilliant a beginning, but then both are novices in the role of suzerain and may im-

- LORD CROMER EULOGISED.

BERLIN May 30 Speaking at a banquet at which the British ditors were entertained, Herr Muchlberg, the Foreign Under-Secretary, repudiated the idea that Germany was a menace to the world's peace. Germany's navy was only intended for the protection of her coasts and her commerce everywhere, in Asia as well as in Africa. She aimed only at the "open door." He eulogised Lord Cromer's work in Egypt.

Sir Frank Lascelles confidently expressed the hope that misunderstandings would eventually be removed by a fuller knowledge and ampler intercourse.

PREDATORY MILLIONAIRES.

ROOSEVELTS DENOUNCEMENT

New York, May 30. President Roosevelt, speaking at Indian-opolis on the occasion of the Memorial Day celebration, vigorously denounced predatory millionaires, and insisted upon Government control of the railways, and the prosecution of apyone proved criminally guilty of plundering others. He was opposed, however, to unreasonable restrictions on capital and believed that Government control would enhance the value of stocks.

ARMY AND NAVY.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT). LONDON, May 18

Major M. Coutts, Army Service Corps, who was latterly attached to the Egyptian Army, in the course of which he was employed in the Stores and Prisons Department as Assistant Secretary, has taken his retired pay. He spent close of 10 years in the service as an officer of the Royal Scots Fusiliers and the A.S.C., and took service with Khedive's Army in June, 1899, after having been up the Nile with Kitchene in the march to Khartoum, including the battle which finished Madhism (mentioned in despatches, medal, Egyptian medal with clasps, 4th class Mejidie).

Lieutenant General J. H. Wodehouse, C.B., C.M.G., who has been appointed Governor and Commander in Chief of Bermuda, is one of the most distinguished of our gunner officers. He was amongst the very first to join the Khe-dive's Army in 1883, and served continuously with it from 1883 to 1894, taking part in the Sudan Expeditions of 1884-85, 1885-86-89, including the actions of Teb and Tamai, defence of Suakin and operations round that place, up the Nile, action of Kirbekan, action of Giniss, Arguin, and Toski, and many other minor affairs (mentioned in despatches four times, medal with several clasps, bronze star, two brevetsteps, 2nd class Mejidje, C.B.), and prior to that he saw service in the Zulu War (meda with clasp) and Afghan War (medal) and subsequently he commanded the 3rd Brigade in the North West Frontier Campaign of 1889-97, in the course of which he was badly wounded in a night attack by the Mohmands. The appointment at Bermuda is worth close on £3,000 per annum.

In a few weeks, Lieutenant Colonel E. A. Herbert, M. V. O., 6th Inniskilling Dragoons, Cairo, will complete three years at the head of that gallant regiment, and will be promoted brevet colonel in the usual course.

The temporary withdrawal of Lieutenant C.A.L. Irvine, 2nd Battalion King's Own Scottish Borderers, owing to ill health, has given Second Lieutenant E.D. Jackson, 1st Battalion, Cairo, his full lieutenancy. He gets his second star at the comparatively short service of sixteen months.

In September next, Colonel G.R.F. Smith, commanding the 3rd Battalion Coldstream Guards, will reach the regulation period in command, and will go on half pay. How the step will go is not yet known, as the future of the battalion is on the rolls for disbandment, under Mr. Haldane's arrangement.

London, May 23.

Lieutenant J. S. Egerton, 1st Battalion Coldstream Guards, has been selected for the appointment of aide de camp to General Wodehouse, the new Governor of Bermuda and a renowned Egyptian soldier. Mr. Egerton has worn the bearskin for over five years, having got his commission in the Coldstreamers in January, 1907.

Captain G.S. Higginson, Royal Dublin Fusiliers, on absorption, has been posted to a company in the 2nd Battalion, at Fermoy.

The following Army Council instruction is Sat. to be added to the Army Order 275 of 1906. "Employment in the substantive rank of Colonel will, under the provisions of this Warrant, remain a necessary qualification for promotion to the rank of major general."

The Army Council has ruled that officers desirous of joining the Mountain Artillery in India, may now apply for appointment to either British or Native batteries

At home, the conversion of the Lee-Enfield rifle is being proceeded with for the purpose of re-arming some of the new units which are to be formed or reformed for Mr. Haldane's Territorial Army:

The Army Council has decided to go another step forward in order that Tommy Atkins may receive the full spiritual benefit of whatever denomination he belongs to. It has sometimes inpon he was promptly allocated to the Church of England, although he may have been a member of some other Protestant Church. To prevent such mistakes in the future, the recruiting officer has now to read over to the recruit the Churches recognised by the War Office, and he will therefore make his selection. Aft the same, there will still be some who will follow out the time honoured religion of "going with the band" no matter what their religious opinions may have been. Tommy is very broad minded as a rule.

How are the mighty fallen. "The Rock", Sun. which under happier rule at home used to boast of a garrison anything up to 6,000 men, has now a skeleton garrison of some 3,500 only, and the naval exhibition of strength has also fallen away in the like proportion, and that after millions have been sunk in making it the first class base of the Atlantic Fleet. With such potentialities for evil ready to mature in Morroco the reduction of the garrison of Gibraltar and its practical abolition as a base of naval operations are a piece of folly on the part of the present administration.

During the summer months the Mediterranean Fleet will be employed in cruising round its area of operations, with possibly a Lord Charles Beresford has begun with the Channel Fleet in the way in which he means to end. He is making the most searching inquiries into the gunnery performance of the individual ships, the monthly gunnery training return, and the weekly training returns recently introduced, are to be rigidly inspected, and in short his lordship has manifested to every ship in his command that gunnery—straight gunnery—is the paramount object and aim (no pun) of its existence. In other fleets and squadrons that we wot of "Lord Charlie's" fed for straight shooting could be followed with substantial benefit to them.

The Admiralty has ordered that as each ship of the Royal Navy comes to port for refit, a separate mess is to be fitted up for each set of the servants of the ward rooms and gun rooms.

"MOTHER RUMBLE TUMBLE."

Mary Tumble, known in Washington as Mother Rumble Tumble, the stoutest woman in America, is again a willow.

Her eighth husband, a wealthy merchant. hed as the result of an accident at the Apollo skating rink, when Mrs. Tumble accidentally "tumbled" on him and crushed him to death.

Mr. Tumble, who was a good roller skater, was showing his skill in a fancy turn when he tripped and fell. Immediately behind him was is wife, weighing nearly thirty stone, neither

The strange part of the tragedy is the fact that in nearly every case Mrs. Tumble's husbands have met with misadventure causing un timely death: Her seventh husband was killed by the sudden closing of a folding bed caused by the breaking of a spring under the weight of the unfortunate wife.

PANTING FOR BREATH.

Her Weak and Bloodless Bo Scarcely Retained Life. All Her Nerves Unstrung.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS

"Like so many other girls I was, careless of the importance of warm clothing during the winter months, and in time this simple neglect found out my weakness." The speaker was Miss Ada Nevis, of 16, Havelock-street, Hull, who discovered that, following a bloodless and weak state of health, alarming results may develop from an ordinary chill. To-day she gratefully acknowledges that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, by making an abundant supply of rich good blood, brought her back to health.

To their sorrow thousands of girls and women learn too late how treacherous is our climate. Clad in attractive but flimsy dresses even in the bitterest weather, they run terrible risks. This was the case with Miss Nevis, who said, "I was so stricken down that mother had grave fears that I would never reach my preent age of twenty-one.

"Through my neglect one severe cold developed with serious complications. Very soon I got run down in health, and grew so languid and tired that any little exertion made me struggle for breath. Every deep breath I took causing piercing stabbing pains in my chest and back, while to go upstairs was so difficult a task that I had to drag one foot after the other. Time after time I would stop halfway, faint and panting for breath. Then neuralgia seized me until I was simply tortured by pain, with every tooth in my head aching. This was accompanied by a violent, hacking cough that shook me to pieces. My blood was so scanty and poor that my face assumed a deathly pallor, with my eyes surrounded by dark rings. Only a girl in years, I had lost all vitality, with no control over my nerves. "My lips were livid, my tongue furred and discoloured, and my throat dry and sore. Food became to me so distasteful that every mealtime was a trial. So unstrung were my nerves that I trembled and shook at the least sound, At night sleep was impossible. My strength left me, and outdoor exercise so fatigued me that after walking a short distance-I was quite done up. Conscious of my death-like appear ance, if by chance I met companions I became nervous, irritable, and hysterical. Mother obtained medicine after medicine and I took them all, with only one result—my digestion was upset and weakened.

"At the crucial moment one anxious friend

Thurs, 6 Alexandria Sporting Club, Fourth for Pale People for me. This she did an begged mother to get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after taking these pills regularly for some little time I made some improvement. My eyes became brighter, my appetite began to mend. Stohwasser and Newmarket Leggings new blood rushed through my veins, and I could digest a little solid food.

"Tincreased the doses of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, when I obtained refreshing sleep. Then my crength began to be built up again. I took outdoor exercise, and could walk for hours. My whole body was in a healthy glow, my cheeks were like peaches, and my vitality completely restored. Since my cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I have never had a pain and have always enjoyed the best of health." By steadily supplying Good, Rich Blood, building up the system against the ravages of disease and restoring lost strength—that is how Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People achieve so many wonderful cures. They actually make New, Rich Blood, and so cure Ansemia, General Weakness, Decline, Backaches, Headaches, Indigestion, Eczema, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia and Paralysis; also the ailments from which women alone suffer. Sold at shops (but avoid substitutes, and take care that the full name, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, is on every pack-
